

Hello,

I received your invitation to be Editorial board member for the Journal of Clinical and Medical Case Studies, and I am interested.

As you mentioned in the email, I'm sending you the picture and a short bibliography and my CV. Please let me know if you need anything else.

Short Bibliography: Dr. Roberto Berebichez is a Medical Doctor who graduated from the Anáhuac University in México City. He is currently doing a Master in Medical Sciences at the same university with special focus in Tissue Engineering and Regenerative Medicine. He is also currently working as a Junior Researcher at the Tissue Engineering, Cell Therapy and Regenerative Medicine Unit at the National Institute of Rehabilitation in Mexico City, working on new techniques of obtaining, isolating and differentiating mesenchymal stem cells into different lineages, studying the interaction between scaffolds and the cells and studying the molecular processes of differentiation of mesenchymal stem cells into chondrocytes. Dr. Berebichez is especially interested in the application of those cells in the treatment of Orthopaedic injuries and diseases, such as cartilage, meniscus, bone, tendons, ligaments and nerves.

Thank you.
