Dear editor,

please find my recent photo as per your requirement in your journal web page. But I wonder there is no photo of any editorial board in your web page.

regards

SN JENA

Dear Editor,

As per your request, I am sending my CV for be a part in the editorial board. So far my expertise is concerned, I am specialized in molecular genetics like genetic mapping, QTL analysis, Comparative genomics, phylogeny and evolution, population genetics and diversity analysis. besides, I have special interest in molecular cytogenetics. Now I am working as a scientist in plant molecular biology & gentic engineering lab, CSIR-National Botanical research Institute, Lucknow, India.

If my CV is found suitable in your editorial board, i will be happy.

secondly, about your invitation, I am willing to submit a MS which deals with single feature polymorphism (SFPs) using micro-array of cotton genotypes. I do understand the present scenario of micro-array expt is going down as RNA sequencing is predominately used in many studies. But still the information we revealed is a substantial output for the cotton community.

We will be submitting that MS before 9th Mrach in your web page.

Thanking you.

Regards

SN JENA
