

Research & Reviews: Journal of Nursing & Health Sciences

International Conference on Nursing and Healthcare

Lisa Foertsch*

School of Nursing, University of Pittsburgh, USA

Editorial

Received date: 20/10/2015

Accepted date: 27/10/ 2015

Published date: 04/11/ 2015

*For Correspondence

Lisa Foertsch, School of Nursing, University of Pittsburgh, USA, Tel: 412-624-4722

E-mail: lyf3@pitt.edu

INTRODUCTION

As I reflect over the last week spent at the 4th Omics International Conference on Nursing and Healthcare in San Francisco, CA on October 5-7th, 2015, it is important to first highlight that the overall goal of the conference addressed marvelous, innovative ideas of how to improve health care nursing education, delivery practices and health care outcomes. There were participants from 28 countries and 6 continents representative of professional nurses, physicians and other allied health care providers. The majority of attendees were professional nurses. Each conference speaker had 20 minutes to present an abstract on a particular topic. Each abstract topic highlighted many important worldwide health issues and possible solutions to resolve, correct or improve the selected topic. As an assistant professor, it was especially valuable to hear about innovative classroom and clinical nursing strategies to improve present education techniques and curriculums.

This was an exciting conference and networking opportunity for sharing of ideas, information and methods to reach an end goal through research, quality improvement and much dedication and commitment to healthcare. Any improvement in nursing and healthcare begins with an idea and flowers from that point. The idea can be a simple or complex solution but the conceptualization needs implementation. A few of the speakers from around the world discussed serious health problem issues particular to their own country or continent with the need for more global commitment to help solve and eradicate these similar health problems. Each country or continent may have similar health care crises so the point of sharing ideas generates greater solutions and change present day practice.

It is wonderful to see the dedication and commitment from each and every conference speaker. The passion demonstrated in each abstract discussion was and is an enthusiastic renewal to reach out globally and improve health education and health outcomes. An International Conference such as this can do just that!

REFERENCES

1. T Kawakita, A Hara and F Michishige (2015) Association between job characteristics and job satisfaction in nurses (2015), 4th International Conference on Nursing & Healthcare, San Francisco, USA.
2. Akiko Hara, Junko Matsuo, Toshimi Kawakita, Fumiko Michishige and Koichi Yabunaka (2015) Positional relationship between nerves and arteries in the cubital fossa during venipuncture: An ultrasound image-based study (2015), 4th International Conference on Nursing & Healthcare, San Francisco, USA.
3. W C Wong and C W Tam (2015) Beneficial additions to management of violence training among psychiatric nurses in Hong Kong (2015), 4th International Conference on Nursing & Healthcare, San Francisco, USA.
4. Filiz A zel, Buket Batu, Banu Kara, Fisun Aenuzun Aykar (2015) The effect of typed personalty on self-care abtly n patnts wth a /rheumatd arthrtts dagnos (2015), 4th International Conference on Nursing & Healthcare, San Francisco, USA.
5. Noor Hanita Zaini, Pathmawati S, Kamaruzaman S, Chinna K and Raja Amin (2015) Users satisfaction on web-based application for patient undergoing CABG (2015), 4th International Conference on Nursing & Healthcare, San Francisco, USA.

6. Magda Bayoumi and Alwakeel J (2015) Impacts of massage therapy during hemodialysis sessions on patientsâ quality of life and physical fitness: Pilot Study (2015), 4th International Conference on Nursing & Healthcare, San Francisco, USA.
7. W C Wong, C W Tam and M M H Tiu (2015) The influences of extra-curricular activities on the development of competence among undergraduate nursing students in Hong Kong (2015), 4th International Conference on Nursing & Healthcare, San Francisco, USA.
8. Anastesia Nzute (2015) How Nigeria women negotiate family dynamics in the cause of malaria prevention (2015), 4th International Conference on Nursing & Healthcare, San Francisco, USA.