ABSTRACT

Though betrayals, cheating and lies happen in real life too, they can happen more easily online, an extra-marital dating. Virtual sex and dating have never been a simple concept, but it has never been so complicated than it has now, primarily because virtual sex and dating have more popular than ever. An increasing number of people have engaging in online dating to beat the boredom of their everyday life and breathe some fresh air. It has a great way for individuals to explore their inner desire and blissfully smile as the relative anonymity of the digital world offers them space where they feel safe and do not put themselves at any kinds of risk.
